FRIENDS IN HIGH PLACES:
DREW MORCOS DPT '07
L.A. LAKERS PHYSICAL

Stacey Dusing joined the Division in 2020 as the Sykes Family Chair in Pediatric Physical Therapy, Pediatric Health and Development. Since then, she's launched the Motor Development Lab, where she studies the development of motor control and coordination in infants and young children as well as the impact of physical therapy treatment on motor and cognitive development. Here are five more things to know about Dusing.

THERAPIST

Last year, Drew Morcos DPT '07 took what many consider a dream job, serving as the physical therapist for the Los Angeles Lakers. The USC grad, who completed an orthopedic residency and a sports fellowship at Kaiser Permanente — and served as the director of rehabilitation for USC Athletics — took a moment between patients at his successful cash-based practice to answer our questions.
